

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1892.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

HOW TO VOTE.

We re-print this week section 59 of the Australian ballot law of Oregon. There seems to be some confusion as to the way this thing is to be done. Some insist that it is necessary to mark with a cross the name of the person voted for. This is an error. You must simply scratch out the name you do not wish to vote for—run a pen or pencil mark through it. The name you wish to vote for, do not mark in any way.

Sec. 59. "On receipt of his white ballot, as aforesaid, the elector shall forthwith, and without leaving the enclosed space, retire alone to one of the compartments or places provided, and shall there prepare his ballot by cancelling, crossing or marking out the names of the candidates he does not wish to vote for, which shall be done with an indelible copying pencil, to be furnished for the purpose, or by scratching with pen and ink for each office to be filled for which he is qualified to vote, and if necessary he may write into the blank space provided therefor the name of the person of his choice for each of any such office; and, in case of a question submitted to the vote of the people, by cancelling, crossing, or scratching out the answer he does not wish to make or give. Before leaving the compartment or place provided, the elector shall fold his ballot so that the face thereof shall be concealed, without displaying the ballot or informing any person how he prepared it; and he shall fold the ballot so that the initials of the first clerk may be seen on the back of the ballot, and so that the remaining stub may be readily torn off, without exposing the contents of the ballot or the marks or crosses thereon. He shall then deliver the ballot to the chairman and state his name and residence."

On going to the polls on election day, pass through the door, and if challenged swear in your vote or stand aside. The necessary forms for affidavits will be supplied by the judges. If not challenged, or after swearing in your vote, pass on through the railing to the voting booths. When you enter the election room, announce your name to the judges having the ballots, and they will furnish you with a proper ballot. If you do not understand how to mark your ballot, ask the election judges. If you can not read English, or are physically unable to mark your ballot, the two judges of opposite politics will mark it for you, and upon request will read over the names marked. Upon receiving a ballot from one of the judges, you will retire to one of the compartments and there prepare your ballot by cancelling, crossing or marking out the names of the candidates you do not want to vote for; or you are at liberty to write the names of persons for whom you may want to vote, whose names are not on the ticket. If by accident you tear, mutilate, deface or spoil your ballot, take it at once to the judges from whom you received it, explain how the accident occurred and ask for another ballot. You are allowed but three ballots in all. You are allowed to occupy a booth but five minutes in preparing your vote. Before leaving the booth, fold the ballot so all the printing on the back will show, taking care that no part of the face of the ballot can be seen. When your ballot is marked and folded, come out of the booth and hand the folded ballot to the judges of election, who will place it in the ballot box in your presence. Then look as though the whole election depends upon your vote, and quietly leave the room.
